REPORT ON ANTI RAGGING PROGRAM

The NSS unit of Sree Narayana Nursing College organized a comprehensive seminar on anti-ragging, held in the college's third-floor auditorium. The primary aim of the program was to educate students about the severe consequences of ragging and to foster a culture of respect and safety within the college community.

The seminar featured a diverse panel of speakers, senior faculty members.

Dr. IV Mamatha, Principal provided an in-depth analysis of the anti-ragging laws, highlighting the stringent penalties and legal repercussions for those involved in ragging activities.

Prof. V.R Saritha, HOD medical surgical spoke on the psychological and emotional trauma experienced by victims of ragging, using real-life examples to underscore the long-term impacts of such behaviour. Their insights were crucial in helping students understand the gravity of the issue beyond its immediate effects.

Interactive sessions formed a key part of the seminar, allowing students to share their personal experiences and engage in meaningful discussions. This open dialogue helped to break down barriers and encouraged a collective stand against ragging. The college's anti-ragging policies were thoroughly explained, ensuring that all students are aware of the support systems and resources available to them should they encounter or witness any incidents of ragging.

The seminar concluded with a strong commitment from all attendees to actively oppose ragging and to contribute to a positive, inclusive, and supportive campus environment. This pledge underscored the collective responsibility of the college community in maintaining a safe educational space.
