REPORT ON HUMAN VALUES AND PROFESSIONAL ETHICS

On 20th July 2019, a Professional Ethics Program on "Human Values and Professional Ethics" was organized at the 3rd floor auditorium. The program was coordinated by Mrs. B. Kalavathi and featured Mrs. E. Sarumathi, a respected professor, as the resource person. The event was part of the institution's ongoing efforts to cultivate a deep understanding of ethical principles and moral values among professionals, particularly in the healthcare sector. Attendees, comprising faculty, students, and staff, were introduced to key aspects of human values and how these principles translate into ethical practices in professional environments.

The program aimed to reinforce the significance of integrating core human values such as integrity, empathy, respect, and accountability into professional conduct. Mrs. Sarumathi emphasized the importance of ethical decision-making in day-to-day professional life and its impact on personal growth and societal well-being. Through insightful discussions and real-life examples, participants were encouraged to reflect on their own ethical responsibilities and how they can contribute to fostering a positive, value-based work culture. The event concluded with an interactive session, allowing attendees to share their thoughts and raise queries on practical challenges in upholding ethics in professional life.
